Committee. The date of March 8 was chosen for the celebration as it marks the day when women in Soviet Russia started protests for the right to vote, which they were granted in 1917. He asserted that 'International Women's Day' is meant to uphold feminist values and celebrate womanhood to the fullest. It's also an occasion to celebrate the great achievements of women and the meaningful contributions they have made to the world.

This was then followed by the speech of the guest for which all the audience were to eager to hear. The guest Mrs. Suchitra Bhagat Madam first of all started with the theme of the International Women's Day 2021, which is "Choose to Challenge". She said that every person needs to realize the potential of letting women flourish without obstructions and provide them with a gender – equal society. She emphasized that it is the moment to pause for a moment and appreciate how much has been done and what more needs to be done in the field of gender equality. Moreover , it is the day to acknowledge all the men and women in the world for making this world a better place for everyone to live in.

Specifically , if we speak about the position of women in Indian Society, a lot has to be still done as empowering of women is still required in Indian Society. Women empowerment is a critical aspect to achieving gender equality, where both men and women have equal power and opportunities for education , healthcare , economic participation and personal development. India's journey towards women empowerment has it's share of highs and lows.

She gave information about the National Policy for Women Empowerment of Women 2001, according to which The National Commission for Women was set up by an Act of the Parliament to safeguard the rights and legal entitlements of women. However, there still exists a wide gap between the goals enunciated in the Constitution , legislation , policies, plans , programmes and related mechanisms on one hand and the situational reality of the status of women in India , on the other.

She also gave examples of the cases that come to her department and how they are handled. She also shared the helpline numbers and Whatsapp numbers to the girls where they can contact when in need of help.

The presidential note was given by Dr. R. P. Mali Sir. In his presidential note, he stated that the gender equality can be realized in the true sense only by abolishing some common practices like considering the presence of widow women in religious functions and marriages as bad omen. He said that India has achieved freedom from Britishers 75 years ago , but the freedom struggle against unfair practices for widows and establishing gender equality still is continuing . This will be achieved in the true sense when even the widows will be invited for functions like ‘Haldi – Kunku’ , it will be felt prestigious to invite them for religious and holy functions and festivals. The short and very much motivating note was given by the Principal Dr. R. P. Mali Sir.

The programme then ended with Vote of Thanks given by Mr. Santosh Hapgunde, Lecturer, Indira Gandhi Jr. College, Nanded. The anchoring was done by Ku. Anisha Dodke. The felicitation ceremony was then followed by introduction to the committee, motive behind arranging the programme and the functioning of the committee which was given by Dr. Ramesh Nandedkar Sir. He addressed the

The date of March 8 was chosen for the celebration as it marks the day when women in Soviet Russia started protests for the right to vote, which they were granted in 1917. He asserted that 'International Women's Day' is meant to uphold feminist values and celebrate womanhood to the fullest. It's also an occasion to celebrate the great achievements of women and the meaningful contributions they have made to the world.

This was then followed by the speech of the guest for which all the audience were to eager to hear. The guest Mrs. Laxmi Puranshettwar Madam addressed the students and first of all stated that she has been a victim of child marriage also . Her parents fixed her marriage at the age of 16 , just after her S.S.C. exams. After marriage , she completed her education with the support of her in laws upto post-graduation and then achieved the post of lecturer in Junior College.

She said that child marriage has been an ancient practice in India, where young children and teenagers are married off much before their physical and mental maturity. She also said that child marriage , according to the Indian law, is a marriage where either the woman is below age 18 or the man is below age 21. Most child marriages involve underage women , many of whom are in poor socio-economic conditions and lack of awareness. Child marriage still remains a common phenomenon in India , despite endeavors on the part of the Government and civil society to eradicate it. In order to eradicate the child marriages within the society , the Government of India enacted the 'Prohibition of Child Marriage Act , 2006' . this legislation is armed with enabling provisions to prohibit child marriages , protect and provide relief to victims and punishment for those who abet, promote or solemnize such marriages.

Despite this , child marriage is widespread in India and as many marriages still have average age of marriage below the legal age of 18 years for females. She appealed to the students to participate in this prohibition of child marriage by informing the Police if they find or see any marriage in their neighborhood or locality where the age of bride is less than 18 years. She appealed to save the girls from this unjust act . It is human rights violation , child marriage directly impacts girls' education, health, psychologic well being and health of their offspring. It increases the risk of depression and maternal mortality. Early marriage is a harmful practice that denies girls their right to make vital decisions about their career, forces them out of education and into a life of poor prospects with an increased risk of violence, abuse, ill health or early death. It is our duty to save these girls from such practices and protect their lives from becoming hell.

This was then followed by the presidential note given by Dr. R. P. Mali Sir. In his presidential note, he stated that the gender equality is very crucial in raising the status of women in our society and can be realized in the true sense only by abolishing some common practices like considering the presence of widow women in religious functions and marriages as bad omen. He said that India has achieved freedom from Britishers 75 years ago , but the freedom struggle against unfair practices like child marriage , disrespect and discrimination for widows and establishing gender equality still is continuing . This will be achieved in the true sense when even the widows will be invited for functions like 'Haldi – Kunku' , it will be felt prestigious to invite them for religious and holy functions and festivals. The short and very much motivating note was given by the Principal Dr. R. P. Mali Sir.

The programme then ended with Vote of Thanks given by Mr. Santosh Hapgunde, Lecturer, Indira Gandhi Jr. College, Nanded. The anchoring was done by Ku. Anisha Dodke. The other staff members who were present were Dr. K.B. Gitte madam, Mrs. B. A. Rathod madam, Dr. Adkine madam, Mrs. Faazge madam, Mrs. Kakde madam. It is important to note that the organization of the programme was done by following all the guidelines of Covid appropriate behavior like sanitization, social distancing and mask for everybody present there. The other teaching and non-teaching staff also co-operated well for the organization of the programme. About 50 girl students participated actively in the programme.

Anti – Sexual Harrassment Cell (2018-19)

The 'Anti – Sexual Harrassment Cell ' of Indira Gandhi Sr. College , Nanded had arranged a programme on 13 / 02 / 2019 on the topic “ Gender awareness & equality ” at 11.00 a.m. in the seminar hall. The programme was conducted under the presidentship of Dr. G.N. Shinde, Principal , Indira Gandhi Sr. College , Nanded. The chief guest for the programme was Mrs. Swati Kawale Madam , PSI , Gramin Police Station , Nanded .

The programme started with Welcome song and was then followed by felicitation of the guest. The working and the functioning of the committee was illustrated by the co-ordinator Dr. Gitte Madam. She told that the committee is intended for the welfare of the girls and aims at their betterment and well being . She also said that they should feel free to approach the committee whenever they have any problem or require some help or want to lodge a complaint in case of any serious problems.

The presidential note was given by Dr. G.N. Shinde . In his note , he addressed the girls and said that , even today when we speak about Gender equality , still campaigns like “Me Too” are also taking place and there is a need of such committees to protect women and achieve their rights . It is really worth thinking that what may be done to have gender equality in the right sense and manner .

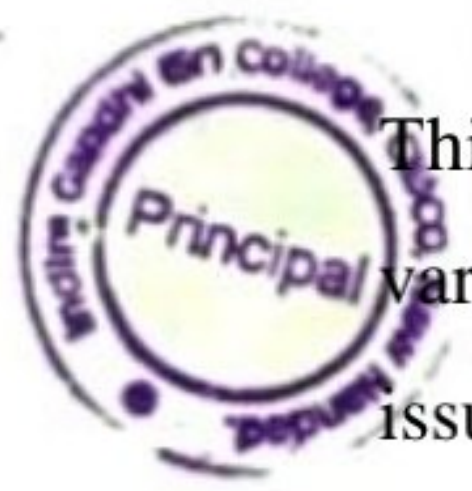

After this the guest Mrs. Swati Kawale Madam addressed the students. She stated that gender equality can be achieved only when girls become powerful and have the courage to protect themselves. Today we are living in the 21st century , but still women are not safe. They have to face many incidences of molestation everyday while going to school or college , travelling in bus or auto , going for outings like picnic or movies , etc. The women should have the courage to oppose such incidences , then and there only without fearing. When things are small , they should be prohibited at the same time.

Women need to be cautious and should have the daring to even slap someone misbehaving with her. Even the public also will help her but she should have the courage to raise voice. If someone tries to offer special favour , tries to interact without any reason , tries to become more close , we should become cautious and not entertain such things.

It is rightly said that “Precaution is better than Cure”. If we remain cautious and take some precautions , then it will prevent and avoid many serious incidences from taking place. We should never interact with unknown persons or entertain anyone without any reason.

She also added that gender inequality starts at home itself. The various household chores are assigned to girls but not to boys. Many times due certain circumstances, the education of girls is sacrificed but not of boys. So it is the responsibility of each and every parent that they should not differentiate between their sons and daughters. The gender equality should start at home itself then only it will be realized in practice .

This was then followed by Question – Answer session where the girls asked various queries to the guest and she gave them the guidance relevant to those issues. She also guided them about some easy ways to self protection. About 50 girls participated in the programme.

The programme then ended with vote of thanks given by Miss Ashwini Gubre Madam. The programme was organized by Dr. Gitte Madam and Mrs. Rathod Madam. The other lady staff members and non – teaching staff also co-operated very well.
